County recycling plan is on target

Bins will be delivered soon

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Madison County officials are boasting about a countywide recycling plan that must by law be implemented July 1.

This will be the only county in the metropolitan region to have countywide curbside recycling and the only one in Illinois, outside of the Chicago area, to have such a program, according to county Solid Waste Coordinator Denise McCreary.

County ordinance requires all local government entities — including cities, villages and townships — to have a recycling plan in place by July 1. The ordinance was enacted in July 1994 to meet the requirements of a state law mandating 25 percent recycling by July 1 this year.

Several communities — Edwardsville and Collinsville, for example — already have curbside recycling programs in place. But others, including Granite City and unincorporated areas of Nameoki and Chouteau townships, have yet to adopt programs.

Madison County State's Attorney William Haine said Friday he is not prepared to crack down on municipalities that initially fail to comply with the law.

"I really don't wish to be suing municipalities," Haine said.

In order to facilitate the countywide program, more than 60,000 blue recycling bins will be distributed to county residents in the next couple of weeks, McCreary said.

"We want to make sure every household has a blue bin in time for R-Day (July 1)," McCreary said.

Joe Parente, administrator of the county's Building, Zoning and Environmental department, said bins will be distributed by haulers, cities or townships, depending on the (See PLAN, Page 4A)

Despite lack of funds, MESD will clean ditch

By Mike Viola
Staff writer

Despite lacking necessary funds, the Metro East Sanitary District will begin cleaning the clogged Harding Ditch on Monday.

"By the time we get the federal funds to do this, we are all liable to have a drowned," said Walter "Shang" Greathouse, executive director of the sanitary district.

The sanitary district is going ahead with the cleaning even though it has no money for the project. The clogged ditch has been blamed for years of flooding in East St. Louis and neighboring communities.

Work crews are expected to start pulling trees out of the ditch and desilting the canal in two East St. Louis areas: 71st Street at St. Clair Avenue and 68th Street and State Street.

Greathouse

Both sites are in the Edgemont area, which is usually hardest hit by flooding along the ditch.

Greathouse said agencies responsible for clearing the ditch have played around too long.

"It seems like all we ever do is have meetings, so now we are just going to get out there and actually do something," Greathouse said.

The sanitary district and the U.S. Corps of Engineers were to begin a cleaning program in September. But officials from throughout the Metro East, lead by East St. Louis Mayor Gordon Bush, were extremely critical of any delay in the cleaning work.

Greathouse said the situation with the ditch is an emergency and can not be delayed until the federal funds become available in September.

He said the sanitary district hopes, but has not been guaranteed, that they will be reimbursed by the government for the clearing work starting Monday.

A sticking point in financing the cleanup work is that the federal gov-

If everything goes according to schedule, the city of Madison could be in its new city hall and police station by September.

At Tuesday's meeting, the Madison City Council approved going out for bids for new jail cells to be installed in the city hall, located in the old Lahey-Sedlak Funeral Home at 615 Madison Ave.

"Things are progressing very well and moving quite fast," said Alderman John Hamm, chairman of the Finance Committee.

When finished, the new city hall will be handicapped accessible and would have about double the available

Shooting justified, grand jury rules

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A Madison County grand jury has ruled the fatal shooting of a man by a Pontoon Beach police officer justified.

On May 27, Pontoon Beach police officer Christopher Modrusic shot Robert T. Snipes, 32, of the 4300 block of Breckenridge Lane, at close range as Snipes was charging him with a knife. Snipes died the next day at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

"Basically, they found he was justified in the shooting, that there was no evidence of wrongdoing," said Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen.

Those testifying before the grand jury Thursday included police, neighbors, and members of Snipes' family.

Police had been called to a disturbance at the residence at about 7:30 p.m. the day of the shooting. Officers were attempting to convince Snipes to surrender when he came out of the house with a knife in his hand and charged Modrusic, who fired a single shot at very close range.

Family members had criticized Modrusic and said police should have used pepper mace to subdue Snipes, but Jensen said there was not enough time.

"An officer was attempting to do that (use pepper mace)," she said. "But Snipes repeatedly refused to obey instructions, and the officer (Modrusic) was backing up as he was being charged."

Police Chief Michael Crouch said he was pleased by the decision: "I'm still not happy that it happened, but we're pleased with the jury's decision."

Crouch also said that Modrusic was patrolling again after being on administrative leave, and had been through counseling, which is normal procedure after a shooting.

Modrusic joined the Pontoon Beach police department about 1 1/2 years ago.

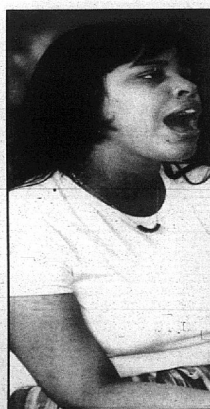

City Hall broken into

Granite City Hall was broken into Thursday night, but no serious damage was done.

The perpetrator broke a window in City Clerk Judy Whitaker's office and removed a window air conditioning unit to gain access to the building, Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said.

Fraud charges don't stop ambulance operations

An ambulance company owner has been given permission to continue operating his business despite pleading guilty to numerous federal fraud charges.

Roger Campbell, owner and operator of the Centralia-based Campbell-Superior Ambulance Service, which serves parts of the Metro East, faces federal prison time and fines when he is sentenced in August in connection to Medicare and Medicaid fraud that spanned a four-year period.

Campbell, who runs services in Alton, Granite City and Madison, pleaded guilty in U.S. Federal Court May 23 to 34 counts of mail fraud and one count of obstruction of agency proceedings.

His employee, William Harrell, pleaded guilty May 24 to two counts of obstructing agency proceedings.

Campbell, 45, and Harrell, 46, both of Centralia, face up to five years in prison and fines of up to $250,000 on each count.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Michael Carr, who heads the agency's criminal division, said prosecutors are still attempting to determine sentencing recommendations.

"There was no agreement with our office that these cases would be probationable," Carr said Tuesday. "The federal guidelines will govern the sentences. We won't know what category they fall into until the presentencing investigations are complete."

Campbell, who could not be reached for comment, has agreed to withdraw his participation in the Medicare program and from Champus, which is a state health care program, Carr said.

In a related civil case, Campbell has also agreed to reimburse $387,034 to the government for improperly billed claims for his ambulance service.

Carr said the convictions do not automatically revoke Campbell's business license.

"It is my understanding that the auditors are still investigating him, so some additional action may be taken some where down the road," he said.

Court records indicate Campbell admitted, on behalf of his company, filing false and fraudulent claims for reimbursement from the Medicaid and Medicare programs. The claims consisted of inflated charges for transporting nursing home patients to medical care providers.

The claims were initially audited by the Illinois Department of Public Aid in April 1993. During the audit, Campbell and Harrell recreated "trip tickets," which were filled out by drivers and attendants to document transfers of patients, and presented them to officials in an attempt to cover up the false and fraudulent billing.

Carr said the phony documents were presented to the auditors while they were reviewing claims from between 1989 and 1992. It was later discovered by agents of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services that the trip ticket forms used by Campbell and Harrell had not been printed until July 1992, despite their attempts to use the forms to report information of trips made prior to July 1992.

Campbell was also accused of presenting similar false and fraudulent trip tickets to a federal grand jury in East St. Louis in March 1994.

GCC public safety officer receives award from peers

Performing the duties of a public safety officer requires the three C's: being calm, cool and collected.

For possessing these qualities among others, Michael Votoupal has been voted by his peers at Belleville Area College as the 1995 Public Safety Officer of the Year.

Votoupal serves as a shift sergeant at the college's Granite City Campus.

"You have to have a lot of patience and a clear head," Votoupal said. "You have to take control of the situation without letting it get out of hand."

Born and raised in Granite City, Votoupal began working at GCC as a part-time security guard in October 1992. In June 1993, he was appointed to a full-time position as a Public Safety officer at the Granite City Campus. Because of this education, formal training and exemplary service to the campus, he was promoted from Public Safety Officer I to Public Safety Officer III.

Votoupal earned his Association of Applied Science degree in Administration of Justice from BAC in 1993.

His efforts at professional development have earned Votoupal the respect of his fellow public safety officers, including Sgt. Dave Thomas and Officer Dave Allen, who nominated Votoupal for the award.

"He's very professional, he's very goal-oriented," Thomas said. "He'll not only suggest things but he always has some ideas on how to improve things."

Before Votoupal came to BAC, he served three years of active duty with the U.S. Army. Because of his sensitivity and fairness, he recently was asked to serve as an alternate on the Armed Services Hardship Discharge Committee to review emergency discharges for hardship cases.

In his personal life, Votoupal is an active member of the Harvest Assembly of God Church in Granite City. He is involved in the church volleyball league as well.

Votoupal and his wife, Angela, live in Granite City.

Whiplash? Auto Accident?

Americans are involved in 1 auto accident each 10 years, which may cause significant injury to nerves, muscles and ligaments, resulting in neck and back pain and stiffness, headache, pain or numbness in the arms or legs, weakness, etc.

Uncorrected whiplash or back injury may result in permanent damage such as arthritis, disc degeneration or neurological problems. It's wise to be examined for range of motion, neurological or postural changes or strength loss. Electronic range of motion and strength testing is the most accurate and accepted method of evaluating whiplash and other injury.

Group still hoping for funds for bridge trail

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Despite the inability to obtain a grant from the state of Missouri this year, a group attempting to turn the old Chain of Rocks Bridge into a bicycle and pedestrian river crossing is still moving ahead with plans.

Lou Mavros, bridge project director for Gateway Trailnet, said the group did not obtain a grant from Missouri, but is still hopeful about receiving funding from the state of Illinois.

Mavros, along with representatives of the city of Madison — which owns the bridge — are scheduled to meet with officials from the Illinois Department of Natural Resources in Springfield June 12 to make a presentation.

He said the group has also received pledges for approximately $250,000 from private sources to restore the bridge.

Gateway Trailnet is a non-profit land trust dedicated to obtaining and preserving greenways. Group officials have said the conversion of the bridge is their highest priority.

The group, with the sponsorship of Madison and the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, had sought approximately $670,000 from the Missouri Highway Department through the federal Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act.

Mavros said one of the reasons for not getting a grant is that the group does not have possession of the bridge yet.

Gateway, the city, and Illini Pipeline Co., which leases the bridge from the city, have been negotiating over possession of the bridge.

Mavros said earlier that Gateway needs a long-term lease to be able to obtain funding for the project. City officials said approval of a lease would probably be dealt with by the city council in the near future.

Jim Wild of East-West Gateway Coordinating Council said the number of ISTEA projects and the limited funds also presented a problem.

He said Missouri had 51 projects costing approximately $10.5 million vying for only $2.6 million in funds.

The total cost of the repair and renovation of the bridge is estimated at approximately $3.4 million. Of that, $2 million would be used for bridge repairs, the rest for the approaches and other improvements.

"We are still working with them to secure funding," he said.

Wild said the project has widespread support on both sides of the river.

The total cost of the repair and renovation of the bridge is estimated at approximately $3.4 million. Of that, $2 million would be used for bridge repairs, the rest for the approaches and other improvements.

As part of a larger system of bicycle and pedestrian trails, the bridge would be used to link the Vandalabene Trail from Edwardsville to Granite City, the Confluence Trail from Alton to East St. Louis, and the Riverfront Trail in St. Louis. Eventually, it would tie into the Katy Trail in Missouri.

The bridge is also part of historic Route 66. It was built in 1927 and later bought and operated as a toll bridge by the city. It was closed in 1988 after the completion of the Interstate 270 bridge.

The bridge was used for filming the movie "Escape from New York," and in 1987, the city leased the bridge to Illini Pipeline Co. It was a popular spot for partying until the 1992 murders of Julie and Robin Kerry. After that crime, both ends of the bridge were sealed off.

Official resigns

The Madison City Council has accepted the resignation of Charles Johnson as assistant building inspector.

He had been appointed in late April to replace Gaynor Hemingway, but said he had to resign because of a change in his work schedule.

Mayor John Bellico appointed Calvin Gardner as the new assistant building inspector.

Man dies in cycle crash

A 42-year-old Granite City man died Wednesday morning when his motorcycle crashed near Madison, according to authorities.

Michael J. Jakich, of the 2500 block of Washington Avenue, was pronounced dead at the scene, the Interstate 55-70 exit ramp to Illinois 203, by St. Clair County Deputy Coroner Robert Shay at 10:35 a.m.

Jakich apparently lost control of his motorcycle on the Illinois 203 exit ramp from eastbound Interstate 55-70 before crashing down an embankment. He sustained massive chest and head injuries.

Jakich, a surgical technologist at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, was married and had one daughter.

Stabbing at toll booth

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A 27-year-old Venice man was treated for stab wounds following a fight with a toll collector at the McKinley Bridge Thursday evening.

The toll collector, Jermaine T. Bell, 25, of the 800 block of Main Street in Venice, was arrested on two outstanding warrants and later released after posting bond.

Venice Police Chief James Newsome said it appeared the stabbing was justifiable self defense, but the matter would be turned over to the Madison County State's Attorney's office.

According to police reports, at about 6:45 p.m., police received a report of a fight at the bridge toll area.

When police arrived they found Bell and the victim facing each other. Bell had a knife — a small "Buck" style pocket knife — in his hand and the victim was bleeding.

Bell was ordered to drop the knife, and was taken into custody.

A record check revealed he had outstanding warrants for failure to appear on charges of criminal damage to property and driving with no insurance.

Police reported the victim had a large cut on his lower left back and was bleeding heavily.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City. He was admitted to the hospital but released Friday.

In a statement to police, Bell said he was working when the victim came up to the toll booth to talk about a previous incident involving the victim's sister.

After talking, the victim allegedly started to walk away, then turned around and struck Bell.

Bell said the victim then tried to come into the booth, breaking a window in the process.

Bell said he pulled out the knife to defend himself, and yelled another toll collector to call police.

The other toll collector told police he heard Bell yell and called.

Police also took copies of security video tapes.

In another incident, a Granite City man reported being robbed at gunpoint while driving in Venice early Wednesday morning.

According to police reports, at about 2:17 a.m. an officer observed the man at the intersection of Bissell and Circle Drive. The man was reportedly acting "suspicious" so the officer stopped him.

The man told police he was looking for a friend, and the officer advised him to leave the area.

Approximately 20 minutes later, the man told police he returned to the area and was robbed of his wallet and $23 in cash by three men with a handgun.

Tax bills being mailed

Madison County Treasurer John Shimkus said Friday that his office has started mailing the 1995 property tax bills.

A total of 117,264 bills will be sent, generating an estimated $153,040,557 in tax revenue for local taxing districts.

"This year, like past years, has been a complete county effort in preparing the bills and mailing them," Shimkus said.

"The county assessor, clerk, data processing office, Board of Review, and the Tax Steering Committee of the county board are all to be commended for their efforts."

A total of 83,063 bills are being mailed directly to property owners. The rest are sent to tax paying agents such as banks, mortgage companies and service bureaus that escrow taxes for loan accounts.

Tax distributions should begin about June 18, Shimkus said. The first installment is due on July 9 and the second is due Sept. 9.

Taxpayers may pay at their local bank, by mail, or at the Treasurer's office, Suite 125, at the county administration building next to the courthouse at 157 N. Main St., Edwardsville.

The city purchased the new building in December for $117,000.

The cost of renovating the building is expected to be between $300,000 and $400,000.

Hamm said the jail cells are one of the most expensive items in rehabbing the building.

Originally city officials had planned to build an addition to the existing garage for the jail cells, but later decided to place them in the existing garage area.

The cost is estimated at about $50,000.

"That's the highest ticket item other than the handicapped accessibility," Hamm said.

That cost was paid through a

Madison street, alarm workers get pay raises

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A three-year contract giving street and alarm department workers a 12 percent raise over the life of the contract was approved by the Madison City Council Tuesday.

The contract, which has already been ratified by the workers, goes into effect July 5.

Finance Committee chairman John Hamm said workers will get a percent wage increase each year.

The contract covers nine workers represented by Teamsters Local 525 in Alton. "It's a good contract," Hamm said. "We did it in two days."

The contract also increases the starting pay to $7 per hour and shortens the probationary period to six months from one year.

The council also approved hiring two people to replace street department workers. One of those hired was Ralph Miller Jr., the son of Alderman Ralph Miller.

The council also approved a $100,000 contract for Dan Donohue to audit the city's books.

In other business, the council approved the leasing of two cellular telephones from Reliable Stereo in Granite City for use by the fire department.

The cost is $110 for the telephones and a $750 per year service fee.

Fire Chief Michael Foley said he thought the telephones were "greatly needed" and would speed communications.

The council also approved spending $1,500 for improvements to the city's new fire truck, recently obtained from the Eagle Park Fire Protection District through Madison County Community Development.

The work will be done by GSM of Madison.

The council also approved allowing the department to conduct driver training within the city limits.

In other business, the council approved payment of a $2,347.37 bill from Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab Inc. for work in preparing maps showing current corporate limits of Madison in relation to other local municipalities, and identifying the owners of unincorporated areas between Madison, Fairmont City and National City.

Alderman Eleanor Armour also asked that Martha Mance be allowed to speak.

Mance complained about derelict buildings in the city. "All these buildings are boarded up houses," she said. "Why isn't something done; it's always 'we'll get to it'."

After she finished talking, Mayor John Bellocco said the city was trying.

The city has started condemnation proceedings against a number of property owners in the city.

Epilepsy group plans camp

The Epilepsy Association of Southwestern Illinois will offer its summer camp program at Camp Roehr, from July 7-13, at Pere Marquette State Park.

The camp is a week-long residential camp which meets the special needs of children diagnosed with epilepsy and associated disabilities. There is a team of doctors, nurses, and recreational counselors who offer 24-hour medical support.

The program encourages children to enjoy camp activities with an emphasis on safety. They are monitored closely for seizure activity, but allowed to go horseback riding, swim, play sports, enjoy hikes and participate in environmental studies.

"Sometimes, the child's disability may call for a modification of an activity," said Cindy Freeman, Camp Roehr director. "We make sure the child is safe and comfortable, and go from there."

Epilepsy is a condition that affects approximately 1 in every 50 children. Half of those diagnosed with epilepsy get complete control of their seizure, but there is another half that even with the best treatments available still experience seizures.

"It is important that these children are afforded the same opportunities as children who are not challenged by epilepsy. They need to experience a full childhood which includes going to camp."

Camp Roehr is sponsored by the epilepsy Association of Southwestern Illinois. The Comprehensive Epilepsy Care Center for Children and Adults, Inc., St. Luke's, Abbott Laboratories, Glaxo Wellcome Inc., Parke-Davis, Ciba-Genetec and Ortho-McNeil are financial sponsors. For information call Cindy or Peggy at 618-236-2181.

Genealogical meeting Thursday

The Madison County Genealogical Society meets at 7 p.m. the second day of each month at 7 p.m. in the fellowship meeting room of the Immanuel United Methodist Church, 800 North Main Street, Edwardsville. The room is wheelchair accessible.

This month's program will be "Problem Solving in Genealogy." The program is designed to help those interested in genealogy get started and to help those currently involved solve a problem.

For information about the society, call Elsie Wasser at 656-2299 or Marie Eberle at 656-1789.

Special Olympics run today

Bellevue Area College's Belleville Campus will serve as the kickoff site June 11 for the Southwestern Illinois leg of the Special Olympics Torch Run, sponsored by the Illinois law enforcement community.

The Torch Run is comprised of 15 legs that win throughout Illinois and span more than 1,000 miles. More than 1,500 law enforcement officials will carry the torch statewide.

A ceremony including special guests, Special Olympians and area law enforcement officials will be held at 8 a.m. at the campus, 2500 Carlyle Ave. The public is welcome.

At 8:15 a.m., the torch run will begin with the final destination being Bloomington-Normal, where all 15 legs will converge for the Illinois Special Olympics torch relay which begins June 14.

Area communities along the torch run route are Swansea, Fairview Heights, Collinsville, Glen Carbon, Edwardsville, Maryville, Highland, Greenville, and Alhambra.

For more information call Fairview Heights Police Lt. Mike King at 397-7020.

area. "Prior to the end of June the bins will be dropped off at the curb in front of each house," Parente said.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Ken Davis said township residents may pick up bins at the township office or haulers or township employees will deliver them.

"We should be getting the bins within a couple of weeks," Davis said.

Unlike Granite City, which contracts with one hauler to provide trash collection services, Nameoki Township residents contract with their own hauler.

Haulers usually charge an additional fee to pick up recycled products. But Davis said some haulers have indicated the recycling pickup will be provided at no extra charge to township residents — at least for a while.

Granite City is currently working on a new trash hauling contract that will include pickup of recyclables at the curb until a mixed waste recycling facility is built in Wood River. The mixed waste process eliminates the need for residents to separate recyclable products from the rest of their garbage. But company officials said it may be as long as two and a half years before the mixed waste facility is completed.

Parente said curbside recycling will be simplified in the county. Except for paper, residents will not need to segregate recyclable materials.

"Aluminum, glass, metal and plastic can be put in the bin," Parente said. "Paper products can be placed beside or put on top of the other materials."

Parente said curbside recycling is the best way to meet the state mandate.

"Curbside recycling has been shown, nationwide, to be the most effective method to achieve recycling rates of 25 percent and above," Parente said.

He said programs elsewhere in the state have succeeded in meeting the state goal, including Normal (70 percent), Wheaton (47 percent), Mt. Prospect (38 percent), Schaumburg (37 percent) and Aurora (29 percent).

Ditch

ernment presently considers clearing the ditch as routine maintenance and not emergency repair.

If the government is convinced to label the situation with the ditch an emergency, federal funds would become available immediately.

Bush and other community leaders contend that since the ditch has become so clogged it is now an emergency situation because the area will flood again if there is a heavy rainfall.

Flooding has occurred along the Harding Ditch and Schoenberger Creek in each of the past four years. In some parts of the ditch, trees have grown more than 20 feet tall because of the lack of dredging.

Flooding along the ditch and creek hits areas stretching from Washington Park through East St. Louis, Alorton, Centerville and Cahokia.

Whitaker's office is on the first floor — not the ground floor of City Hall. The window is about 15 feet above ground level. Taken were the window air conditioning unit, two portable radios and candy Whitaker keeps to hand out to children. Petty cash is kept in a safe and the burglar could not gain access to it.

A bush beneath the window appeared disturbed and candy was found on the ground beneath the window, indicating the burglar exited through the window.

Because Whitaker's door is locked by a key, the rest of the building was not accessible, Ruebhausen said.

Although Whitaker's office contains an expensive computer system and the official city records, no vandalism took place.

Police dusted the office for fingerprints, but the burglar apparently wore gloves, Whitaker said.

Police also searched a two-block area for the air conditioner, but did not find it.

Get your kicks

Father, daughter prepare for trip on Route 66

By Glen Sparks
Staff writer

In little Clinton, Okla., about 80 miles west of Oklahoma City, there's a place called Pop Hicks Restaurant.

Can't miss it. It's right on Route 66.

Dave McClelland goes there every time he gets to Clinton. He sits in one of the chrome chairs and orders the cheeseburger platter.

"You bite into it, and you're in heaven," McClelland says. "You get that old-fashioned service. The waitresses don't give you the generic, 'Have a nice day.' It's 'Where've you been?' 'Where are you headed?'"

Sometime on June 12, McClelland should be pulling his '78 Camaro into Pop Hicks.

He plans to leave today for a trip from Chicago to Los Angeles along, as author John Steinbeck called it, "The Mother Road."

Just he, his 11-year-old daughter, Samantha, and his 25-pound pet pig, Lucy.

"I'm sitting in my apartment here (in south St. Louis) around Christmas and I'm pretty depressed," McClelland begins his explanation on the origins of this expedition. "I'm divorced. My parents have passed away, and I don't have any brothers or sisters. I needed something to snap out of it."

"I just looked at Lucy, and I came up with the idea for this trip. I called my daughter and she said, 'Let's do it.'"

And a little more about the pig?

"I got her after my divorce," says McClelland, 35, an office manager at a downtown firm. "A friend of mine in Illinois raises pigs. He said, 'You need to have a companion.' She's been my companion on the Mother Road."

McClelland has traversed Route 66 several times on vacations. He calls this two-week venture a business trip, though. He'll stop at several spots along the trail to gather information for a book, The Legends of 66.

"We're going to be meeting and talking to a lot of people and getting the stories," McClelland says. "I want the reader to get a real feel for the people and the places on the road."

"I believe people yearn for the past. Route 66 does take you back."

Samantha, who lives with her mother in north St. Louis County, hopes to write a children's book about Route 66.

She already is the author of several school reports on the road.

Cyrus Avery is the "father" of Route 66 and former head of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Avery led the drive in 1924 to convert a series of dusty roads into a smooth concrete path that could take travelers from the Midwest to the Pacific Ocean.

"California wasn't a big thing then, but he knew it would be and people would want to get there," he says.

The federal government officially designated the highway as Route 66 in 1926. Not until 1937 was the entire route paved.

The road starts at the Chicago Art Institute, near Grant Park and Lake Shore Drive.

It ends at Santa Monica Boulevard and Ocean Avenue in Santa Monica, Calif.

A quarter mile from the road's end, the surf pounds into the sand on the edge of the continent. Just a couple of blocks to the south, a sign — neon, of course — shines above the entrance to the Santa Monica Pier.

"It's the perfect end to the road," he says. "It's breathtaking."

After a couple of days in L.A., Dave, Samantha and Lucy will head east to St. Louis, again on The Mother Road.

Nearly 85 percent of the original Route 66 is still driveable, although it gets a little clunky in spots and does dead end in places.

The interstate system built between 1956 to 1984 to replace old 66 at a cost of billions of dollars closely parallels "America's Main Street."

"Sixty-six is so near it almost teases people," McClelland says. "It says, 'I'm still here, and I'll be here forever.'"

McClelland figures he averages about 40 mph or so on his Route 66 trips. He could get to LA from St. Louis in three days on the interstate.

But then he would miss people like Stanley Marsh at the Cadillac Ranch in Amarillo, Texas.

"He has the place with all the Cadillacs stuck half way into the ground and is one of the people who won't allow 66 to die," McClelland says.

McClelland refuses to let the legends die, either.

"I refuse to get caught up with the speed of today's society," he says. "People need to appreciate the slow lane. I want to get out and meet the people."

"Half the fun is getting there, and with 66 you can have a ball getting there."

Big Brothers seeks donations

Now that summer has arrived, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Southwestern Illinois reminds people with unwanted cars, boats, vans or recreational vehicles that they can donate their vehicle or boat to Big Brothers/Big Sisters. By making a charitable contribution of an old vehicle instead of trading it in, a donor may claim a charitable deduction.

Cars, boats, vans or RVs will be picked up free of charge to the donor.

Owners must have title to a vehicle and it must have an engine. Boats must be made of fiberglass and be seaworthy.

Funds from the donation of vehicles and boats go directly to support programs and services to children enrolled in Big Brothers/Big Sisters.

People wishing to donate a vehicle or boat may call 1-800-659-6526.

Haine calls meeting on disclosure law

A meeting is scheduled for Friday to help acquaint Madison County law enforcement officials with a new law that makes names of convicted child-sex offenders available to the public. Police have been invited to meet with representatives from State Police and the Madison County State's Attorney's Office in Roxana.

A law that took effect June 1 requires local police agencies to provide public access to the names of convicted child-sex offenders. Some departments have made lists of registered offenders available, but some police officials admit to confusion about the requirements.

State's Attorney William Haine said he has advised some police chiefs who expressed doubts about what names should be released to wait until the June 14 meeting.

Offenders must register within 30 days of conviction if placed on probation or within 30 days of taking up residence in a community after release from prison. They must re-register annually for 10 years and whenever they move to a new community.

"We're not releasing any information here," said Capt. Robert Hertz, chief administrative assistant in the sheriff's department. Hertz said his understanding of the new law is that police may release only names of offenders on lists distributed by State Police. The lists will be distributed quarterly in February, May, August and November.

"The State Police" will check the information and make it available to the departments for release," he said. "We will provide that information immediately."

Try some of these
Work-Saving Tips
from the experts at

FRANK'S

NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

We've offered plenty of work-saving gardening tips in the past, and we're about to do it again. Only this time, our tips look at gardening activities a little differently. They're not only work-savers, but they can help you avoid injury as well.

Whatever the weight of the object you're lifting, bend your knees and let your legs do the work instead of your back. The straight-legged, bent-back stance that a lot of people use when lifting can cause severe back problems.

A wheelbarrow is a must for many projects, but you don't have to let it be your only mode of transport. For example, a 4-wheeled wagon is great for hauling potted plants, bags of soil, fertilizer, etc. But nothing heavy: this type of wagon is designed for child passengers and you don't want to damage it in any way. If the load's too heavy, use the wheelbarrow, a hand truck or dolly.

Back to the good old wheelbarrow. If you're ever hauling an extremely heavy load and you feel the wheelbarrow starting to tip out of control, let it go, unless it would be more hazardous to do otherwise. Trying to regain control of a loaded wheelbarrow can cause severe muscle twists and strains, much more so than cleaning up the mess and reloading it.

When trying to lift a heavy rock, piece of concrete, or even a heavy plant, a lever of some sort is a huge work-saver. To use one at ground level, prop it on a rock or some other sturdy support. A large crowbar is best, but if one's not handy, a good strong board or piece of metal makes a good one. Make sure your board is in good shape; weak or rotted ones will snap at the worst possible time.

If you have difficulty loading and unloading heavy objects into your car, truck or van, you may want to get two or three long, smooth boards and make a ramp out of them.

And the boards will provide other services, too. Use them for a ramp from ground level to raised bed or up a small flight of stairs.

Tired of sweeping up grass clippings with the small household dust pan? Try your snow shovel instead. Beats the small ones by a mile. It holds a large amount of debris, you don't have to kneel down to use it, and it's easy to empty. This is a real time-saver when you have a lot of debris, such as after edging. Okay, we've always said to use tools only for their intended purpose, but that's meant to avoid abusing tools. Grass clippings are actually easier on the shovel than snow and ice, so no harm's done.

Instead of moving several piles of grass or leaves, use a big square of canvas. Dump all the trash on it as you work. When you've accumulated as much as you feel you can safely move with one trip, lift up the four corners, form a bundle and drag it away.

Use a kneeling pad, especially if you're going to be crawling around for any length of time. Or, you may prefer knee pads like basketball players or roller bladers wear. Let's face it; it may be a little more of a bother, but so is kneeling on one of those small, sharp stones.

Follow these simple tips and you'll be going a long way toward a happy and safe gardening season!

The cards have been in the mail. Now it's time to send them back.

Old Newsboys Day volunteers should have received by now a postcard that lists the specifics of their assigned intersection. It's important to return the cards to reserve your corner for Old Newsboys Day, which will be on Nov. 7 this year.

A special edition of the Journal will be published and sold on area street corners on Old Newsboys Day. The newspaper's subject matter again this year will be Children's Choice Awards, highlighting the likes and dislikes of local teenagers and preteens.

Flood victims get $ 3.2 million

By Mike Viola
Staff writer

The federal government has approved over $3.2 million in assistance for flood victims in St. Clair County as of Monday. The Federal Emergency Management Agency had received by Monday 3,392 applications for assistance with 2,127 already approved.

"This money can cover things like rental assistance and emergency repairs to flood damaged homes," said Carlos Santiago of FEMA's public affairs office.

Of Metro East counties, St. Clair has received the bulk of federal assistance.

Madison County has had 185 applications submitted for federal assistance with 76 applications approved as of Monday.

The total assistance distributed in Madison County so far is $146,725.

Monroe County has had 23 applications with 10 approved for a total of $40,000.

In the Metro East the U.S. Small Business Administration has received 1,876 applications for low-interest loans from homeowners and 372 businesses.

The loans are used to cover flood damage to buildings as well as personal property.

Santiago noted that about 520 people had visited the Clyde Jordan Senior Citizen Center so far where representatives from federal and state agencies work to provide assistance to flood victims.

People can still register at the center, said Santiago. The center is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Flood victims can also call 1-800-462-9029 for more information. The hearing impaired can call 1-800-462-7555.

FEMA has also approved a $14,047 grant to provide mental health services to people in St. Clair and Lawrence Counties affected by flooding.

"We requested federal dollars to make sure that crisis counseling is available to help ordinary people who must cope with extraordinary circumstances," said Gov. Jim Edgar recently.

A Mammogram: A Picture That Could Save Your Life

One in nine women will develop breast cancer at some point in her life, but mammography can help you beat the odds.

If someone told you that simply having your picture taken could save your life, would you do it? Of course. A mammogram, which can detect breast cancer in its earliest stages, is just that -- a picture -- an x-ray of the breast that can save your life.

Memorial's Mammography Center offers state-of-the-art diagnostic equipment and skilled personnel for complete screening services and test interpretation by board-certified radiologists in a private, comfortable and convenient setting. Memorial's program is accredited by the American College of Radiology and recognized by the American Cancer Society as an ACR-accredited facility. This means Memorial's Mammography Center maintains the healthcare industry's most recognized accreditation for consistently following strict guidelines for low-dose, high-image quality.

Don't fear the results of a mammogram. With today's effective treatment options, up to 90 percent of women with breast cancer can beat the odds when it is found and treated early.

For an appointment or more information about this cost-effective, life-saving exam, call Memorial's Mammography Center at 257-5065.

Here there be dragons

'Dragonheart' highly imaginative tale

Tough times for dragons in 10th-century England. Because of hostile, unthinking human beings or perhaps some genetic failure, the species seems to be going the way of the dinosaurs.

In fact, there is only one left, a fire-breathing but benign creature named Draco, who hides out from the hostile natives and speaks in a Scottish accent.

By no means timid, Draco willingly joins a soldier of fortune to right the unspeakable wrongs of a vicious monarch, despite the risk of extinction for the world's dragons.

"Dragonheart" follows the pattern of "Rob Roy" and "Braveheart": peasants rising against the tyranny of kings, broadsword clanging, hand-to-hand battles galore. But the new film adds the dragon, which is alternately terrifying and cuddly, injecting a supernatural element that seems more appealing to the younger crowd than their elders.

Dennis Quaid plays Bowen, a knight of The Old Code of King Arthur, now assigned as mentor to the king's teen-age son. When the wicked king is killed in battle and the prince is wounded, the queen (Julie Christie) takes her son to a cave. There she persuades Draco to share half of his life force with the prince in order to save his life.

As an adult, the king (David Thewlis) is out to be even more evil than his father. Bowen, disillusioned and convinced that the dragon's spirit has wiped out his own teachings of honor and compassion, becomes a dragon bounty hunter.

Finally, Draco becomes the only dragon left for Bowen to slay. Instead of battling, they form an alliance. Bowen convinces villagers to pay him gold in return for ridding them of a dragon. Draco then stages a phony death, and the two tricksters move on to the next suckers.

They get serious when the daughter (Dina Meyer) of the leader of a peasant revolt persuades them to join forces to combat the dastardly king. Hence the climactic battle.

Director Rob Cohen ("Dragon: The Bruce Lee Story") gets the most out of the buddy relationship between Bowen and Draco. Cohen also provides imaginative battle sequences, especially a pursuit through a forest. But the script, credited to Charles Edward Pogue from a story by Pogue and Patrick Read Johnson, sometimes veers into the obscure.

The mixture of American, English and Scottish accents doesn't help. Nor do lines such as, "Peace, o' knight of The Old Order, witness the wonder of an ancient glory."

Except for Westerns, Dennis Quaid is known for contemporary roles, and his venture into a costume epic brings mixed results. He seems at home with the action, but the dialogue appears troublesome, even when he lowers his voice an octave.

Sean Connery enlivens matters as the voice of Draco, though you're always aware that this is Sean Connery on a lark. Pete Postlethwaite contributes much-needed humor. Julie Christie is impressive though hardly recognizable as the queen.

Draco itself is the work of the ubiquitous Industrial Light and Magic. He is an endearing creature, just what you'd want dragons to be. Thoughtful, too. When Quaid has trouble lighting a camp fire, Draco finishes the job with his left nostril.

The Universal Picture was produced by Raffaella de Laurentis. Rated PG-13 for battle violence and scariness of the dragon. Running time: 108 minutes.

Eagles plan joint officer installation

The Granite City Eagles Auxiliary 1126 held its second meeting of May on May 28.

Joanna Spencer, president, turned the meeting over to the ritual team to perform the opening ceremony as they will do in competition at convention in June. There were 31 members in attendance who gave the Pledge of Allegiance.

The roll call of officers was taken. Sherrie Wilson served as pro-tem for Sandra Tudor. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Vincine Zerlan, secretary. They were approved. Betty Smith was re-elected and one new application for membership was read. An initiation ceremony was performed by the ritual team of Vera Johnson, Joanna Spencer, Millie Weatherford, Barbara Modrusic and Angie Buehler. Martha Simpson served as inside guard. Ellen Amsler was initiated and welcomed.

The next installation ceremony will be held at 7:30 p.m. June 11 at the Eagles home, 2528 Madison Ave. in Granite City.

A joint officers installation was held June 1 with a banquet following.

On June 9, the District 7 will hold a joint meeting of Aerie and auxiliary at the Eagles home. The auxiliary will meet at 2 p.m. Bingo will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Nameso-ki Bingo Hall.

Plans for the Eagles float in the Granite City Centennial are being finalized, and the Aerie and auxiliary will participate in the "Circus Days" theme on June 22. Call Nina Jackson for more information. The Eagles state convention will be held June 20-25 in Aurora and Naperville. The auxiliary will meet in Naperville, and the Aerie will meet at the Aurora Eagles home. The Granite City ritual team and the Eagles escort team will compete at this convention.

Mildred Boyd, visiting chairman, sent get-well cards to Marilyn Thomas and Irene Schwierjohn and sympathy cards to Bernadine Hagnauer, who recently lost her husband, Nelson, and Florence Hagnauer, sister-in-law of Nelson.

Spencer, Boyd and Rose Piechocinski participated in the memorial service and placed a wreath at the War Memorial in Memorial Park May 28.

Katie Kostoff served as hostess with her committee. Mary Church, LuVerne Malzyinski and Helen Mihu — for the social hour following the meeting.

Mihu and her Garden Study Club will be responsible to place plants in the planters in (See EAGLES, Page 12A)

Lions celebrate

The Granite City Lions Club participated in the first annual Granite City International Festival Parade by having a float in the parade and serving barbecued pork steak sandwiches and snow cones. The club won $50 for third place in the parade. The festival was held for three days, May 3-5.

Young at Heart plan trip to Casino Queen

Young at Heart Senior Citizens of Holy Family Catholic Church held its monthly meeting May 20 in the church community center.

The meeting was called to order by Cleo Siebert, president. Sister Jean Patrick led the group in prayer, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance.

In the absence of Cleo Schneck, minutes of April's meeting were read by the corresponding secretary, Jean Francis, followed by the treasurer's report, given by Katherine Berosky.

Connie McGee, membership chairwoman, reported 79 members in attendance, with one new member, Ann Welch.

Mary Rita Ahlers, friendship chairwoman, reported sending get-well cards to the Rev. James Keefner, Lorraine Parkinson, Lucille Caban and Sylvia Opich.

Irma Manning, trip chairwoman, reported that the bus for the cruise on the Casino Queen will leave the church parking lot at 10 a.m. June 10. The bus will leave the Casino Queen at 3 p.m. for the trip to the Shriners' Circus.

Birthday celebrations in May were Mary Siebert, Ruth McClew, Clotilde Mosby, Lorraine Grimes, Fran Gruber, John Danco, Barbara Dudak, Ann Kovach, Art Lindner and

A representative from the Granite City Park District, David Dombek, commissioner, spoke to the Young at Heart members asking them to volunteer to assist the park district in maintaining and beautifying their parks.

Jean Francis reported receiving a thank-you card from Norma Tankersley and Louise Kovar for the sympathy cards they received from the Young at Heart members.

Siebert asked for volunteers to sign the roster to work at the June Festival. Volunteers were needed to work in the flea market, cake walk and cake walk stand on May 31 and June 1 and 2.

Attendance prizes were won by Catherine Wiese, Frances Viviod, Helen Noeth, Veronica Patrick, Eric Mooshegian, Mary Gloescki, Louise Kovar, Ruth Bridges, Cleo Siebert, Bernadine Brinza and Zita Bequette.

Mary Gloescki reported the Helen and Eric Mooshegian celebrated their 53rd wedding anniversary.

Young at Heart asked to help furnish food for workers putting up the stands for the June festival. Food was served to the workers on May 29 and 30. Following refreshments of finger foods, coffee and iced tea, the remainder of the evening was spent playing bingo.

The next monthly meeting will be held at 7 p.m. June 17 in the church's community center.

Poelker, Cats gearing up on gridiron

In the heat of summer, how can anyone think football? At McKendree College, don't even ask the question. Within three months, pads will be popping and Xs and Os will be at a center of attention that began when school president Dr. Dennis James announced the Bearcats' return to football for the first time in nearly a half-century.

Already coach Carl Poelker sounds well-armed with game quotes like: "It's really been a team effort."

Yet, even before the first game at 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 7 at Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Mo., the McKendree team from James' dream of players flocking to campus for a chance to play has become most formidable.

The Bearcats' home opener in Lebanon will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 14 against Olivette-Nazarene, but Poelker has a ways to go before he can concentrate on the schedule.

"We probably will dress between 110 and 120 players for home games (on the campus field under construction)," said Poelker. "Most of the players will be freshmen."

With such numbers, Poelker has found the work of Sue Gorton in the admissions office and athletic director Harry Statham invaluable.

"There have been endless campus visits and work with the admissions office," said Poelker. "And our faculty members have been most helpful in selling our academics."

Statham, meanwhile, as the veteran basketball coach of the Bearcats, not only is available as an AD but as someone who has often offered a McKendree welcome mat for athletes who leave the Southwestern Illinois area and then return home.

"At this point, we might have about 20 transfers," said Poelker, who previously developed Millikin University at Decatur into a Midwestern power capable of dethroning powerful Augustana as a conference champion.

"He's a good man," Statham said of the 52-year-old coach. "I feel about 92." Poelker joked recently as he entered his sixth month at McKendree.

"One at a time," Poelker added when asked about the eight-game McKendree schedule.

Fact is, Poelker may have been referring to the days that dwindle down to a precious few. Meanwhile, he and his staff, including former Belleville East coach Dean Renn, former West coach Pete Hensel and former Althoff all-state linebacker Matt Gormie, make me think most optimistically of McKendree.

OVERTIME: Games completing the McKendree schedule are: Sept. 21 at St. Xavier (Chicago); (See ART, Page 4B)

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Right now, Tri-City Post 113 Junior Legion manager Chad Lignoul can't be any happier about the way things are going.

The Junior Triplets are 2-0 after a 3-1 win over a tough Roxana team Wednesday night. Tri-City thrashed Cahokia 12-6 in the season opener Tuesday.

And right now, the team is showing no signs of any weaknesses.

"We knew going in that if we were going to have a weakness, it would probably be on defense," Lignoul said. "But I don't know if that's such a weakness. We knew we'd have strong pitching, and we thought we could swing the bats well. So far, we've done all of those things well."

Attitude can be a problem for Legion teams, with vacations and other sports going on during the summer months. But again, there's no problems on the Junior Triplets team.

"I told the guys that if they were going to go one time during the season to let me know now," Lignoul said. "But I've only had one kid come to me so far, and even that's a maybe."

And that's a good thing, because although the Junior Triplets are talented, they aren't overcrowding the dugout. Only 13 players are on the roster at this time. "We don't have a lot of" (See JUNIORS, Page 3B)

Paddlers set to swim into new season

By Brian L. Jones
Correspondent

Coach Celeste Fursemanek has a busy summer ahead in her 17th year with the Southwest Illinois Swimming League team at Paddlers Pool in Granite City.

Her Paddlers Swim Team, which finished third last year in the six-team SISL Championship Tournament, projects to have more than 100 boys and girls competing this season. More than 65 swimmers, ranging from toddlers to 15-year-olds, recently reported for the first day of Paddlers practice and many more will sign up after their schools let out for summer vacation.

This year, Paddlers will be the host site for the championship tournament Aug. 3, beginning with warm-ups at 7:30 a.m. Alton's Summersport team hosted the SISL finals last year and won the league championship, with Edwardsville's Montclair team finishing second ahead of Paddlers.

"The tournament rotates every year at three different sites, because you must have a six-lane pool to qualify for" (See PADDLERS, Page 3B)

Roth keys Lady Warriors' surge at state tourney

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

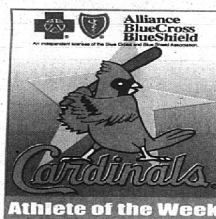

Shannon Roth represents all that is good about the Granite City girls soccer program.

The sophomore goalkeeper is a prime example of why Granite City soccer fans have every reason to be optimistic about next year's team.

Not that this year's team was disappointing. The Lady Warriors tied for third place after a strong state tournament May 31-June 1.

Heavy rains on the final day of play forced the game between Granite City and Libertyville to be called after 80 minutes of play. The game was scoreless at that point, but field conditions prompted IHSA officials to end the game.

The Lady Warriors' third-place trophy represents the highest finish ever at state for a team from southern Illinois. The scary part is, Roth and all of her teammates can return next year.

Roth was the only goalkeeper to play for Granite City this year, as she compiled a 0.70 goals-against average. She recorded her 13th and 14th shutouts of the year at the state tournament, and for that feat she has been named the Illinois Journal's Cardinal Club Athlete of the Week.

The only team to dent the net against Roth and the Lady Warriors at state was eventual state champion St. Charles, which defeated Granite City 2-0 in the semifinals.

"The state tournament was a lot of fun, and I had a great time. The weather didn't bother me at all," Roth said. "I think the experience will only make us better, and I think we'll do better next year."

Granite City had no returning seniors on its team this season. A large group of juniors can return next year,

GCHS hoping to replace senior-dominated lineup

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

The Granite City boys tennis program said goodbye to a fine group of seniors recently, and now looks to what should be an interesting future.

Head coach Allen Lobdell said he is still disturbed about what happened to his senior, and "the best tennis player I've ever coached," Joe Markel, at the state tournament.

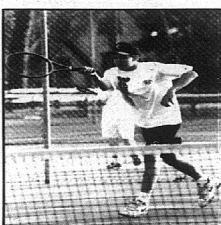

Suffice it to say, Markel was given a bad ride at state. Markel, a returning state qualifier and one of the area's top players, was not seeded for the state tournament May 24-25 by the Illinois High School Association.

"I just hated to see something like that in Joe's senior year," Lobdell said. "I know he was hoping to place."

Markel leads a strong group of seniors who graduate from the program, including No. 2 singles player Buddy Frazma. That means Lobdell loses his

Boley races past pros to victory at Tri-City

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

While both Ken Schrader and Mike Wallace were floundering, Steve Boley was excelling.

Schrader and Wallace, the Winston Cup pros who were the star attractions Wednesday at Tri-City Speedway, took second fiddle to Boley, who started in sixth position but won the AC Delco-CarQuest 50.

It didn't take long for Boley to make his mark on the race, as he passed the other five cars in front of him and took control by lap seven, then led for the remaining 43 laps to get the Busch All-Star Tour win.

Boley was modest when talking about what he had accomplished.

"It's just a thrill to be in winner's circle, and to be in the same race with so many great drivers," he said. "I'm just excited to be here, and I hosting it," said Fumaneck, a Belleville resident, part-time school teacher and mother of three young children. "Summersport won it at their own pool last year, so maybe hosting it this year will give us an advantage."

The three other league teams are Gaslight (in Collinsville), Wedgewood (St. Louis County) and Sunset Hills (Edwardsville). The league's age-group divisions are 8-under, 9-10, 11-12, 13-14 and 15-18. Until the turn of the decade, Paddlers had been the dominant force in the SISI, but other programs are gaining ground fast in terms of number of participants and the quality of their swimmers.

"At one point, up until about four years ago, we had won eight or nine (SISI) championships in a row, but it's becoming more unpredictable," said Fumaneck, a former (Belleville Bi-County) YMCA League swimmer who attended SIU-Edwardsville. "We last won it two years ago, but I have no clue right now as to whether or not we've got a shot at it this year."

However, Paddlers continues to rank with Summersport as the leading teams in terms of typical roster size, both featuring about 110 entries each season. "Alton (Summersport) probably still has to be the favorite for this year because they have a lot of kids coming back," Fumaneck said. "I won't know for another two weeks or so how good we'll be until more kids get into the pool."

Paddlers opens the season June 18 by hosting Sunset Hills in a dual meet. Janet Niles returns for her fourth season as an assistant coach and will work primarily with the younger swimmers. Fumaneck also welcomes another familiar name to her coaching staff.

"Jeanine McMillan finished up her final year swimming for us last year and now she's going to be my assistant," Fumaneck said. "She was one of my high-point swimmers last year, which means she finished among the top three in some of her (championship) events. She swam as a freshman last year at Millikin University, so she has a lot of talent and experience."

One of the team's returning high-point swimmers is Denise McMillan in the girls 15-18 division.

"Denise is one of those kids who has her head screwed on right and will swim just about any event I ask of her," Fumaneck said. "She's versatile just like most of our top kids and I expect her to do well this summer."

Like McMillan, several Paddlers at the high-school level compete in other winter sports for their schools and seldom get a chance to join winter swimming leagues.

"I just try to tell our kids to stay in shape as much as possible if they can't swim," Fumaneck said. "One thing we did in March, April and May was set up some spring sessions after school from about 4:30 to 5:30 at the (Granite City) YMCA. We had about 40 to 45 kids get involved in that, so that's good."

Probably the top Paddlers swimmer among the boys is Justin Schooley, 10, who returns in the 9-10 category. Schooley won the state 50-meter freestyle championship in the YMCA Winter League earlier this year. Zack Suhre, who just completed his junior year at GCHS, and Cale Becker, a recent graduate of Edwardsville High School, are the top boys swimmers in the 15-18 division.

Matt Yehling also looks promising in the 15-18 division. Cal's brother Nathan Becker, who is about to enter his freshman year at EHS, is a top swimmer at 13-14. One of Fumaneck's best young swimmers is 9-year-old Brant McFarland, who moves up from the 8-under division.

"That's a big adjustment because the 8-year-olds swim one lap and the 9-10 year olds swim two," Fumaneck said. "But Brant has looked good in practice and I think he's going to make the transition smoothly."

Matt Dittman broke a finger during a winter playing spring soccer, but Fumaneck expects him to be recovered quickly in the 11-12 division. Another top swimmer among the girls is Karen Yehling (15-18), Matt's sister.

numbers, but the kids we have can do a lot of things," he said. "We had some problems keeping kids interested last year, but everyone seems committed to baseball this year."

"They're a great bunch of kids. The attitude, chemistry and effort all seem to be there."

On Wednesday, Post 113 got a big effort from starting pitcher Jason Dix. Dix struck out 10 — including the side in the first inning — and walked just one, while surrendering just four base hits. Dix also closed out the Junior Triplets' win over Cahokia on Tuesday night.

In that game, Tri-City was up 11-1 and just three outs from a shortened five-inning game. But Lignoul brought in a few players off the bench, and moved people around to unfamiliar positions, and it cost the team defensively.

"We had no errors in the first five innings, then five in the last three innings," Lignoul said. "I moved them around in some places they weren't used to. But we've shown we can be a good defensive team."

No. 1 starter, but there's plenty of pitching to go around. Paul Kacera threw very well in the five innings, and is capable of giving the team a lot of innings. John Kelly, who will play in the outfield when not on the mound, is a solid lefty for Post 113.

So far, the hitting stars have been designated hitter Tony Komorowski, who has started off 4-for-7 with five RBIs, and Vince Whittenburg, who had three hits against Cahokia.

Scott Smallie has done a good job getting on base in his leadoff role, and Kirby Brumley and outfielders Tim Simon and Craig Murphy.

Lignoul is assisted by longtime Legion coach Ralph Burnett, as well as former GCHS standout Les Nunes. "Les is a heck of a ballplayer, and I'm excited about having him helping us out this year," Lignoul said. "And I'm blessed to have Ralph helping me. He's got to be one of the best coaches in the area, with the way he knows the game and motivates the kids."

Rachel Kennerly (left) is one of many underclassmen set to return for Granite City next season.

FIFTH QUARTER: A 13-2 record for the past four years was enough to spur on the Centralia High School Board of Education to a football coaching search that led to the recent hiring of Ronnie Hughes of Eastland (Texas) High.

Hughes replaces Kurt Simon, who resigned last February after his third 3-6 season in four years.

A veteran of 25 years of high school coaching, Hughes spent 16 years at Eastland, and is credited not only with starting new programs but at being an outstanding motivator.

My bet is that Hughes will not be successful unless he can arouse football interest on the seventh- and eighth-grade levels in Centralia and also lead the fight against drugs on the teenage level there.

EXTRA INNINGS: The O'Fallon American Legion baseball program may get a boost this summer thanks to SIU-Carbondale outfielder Scott Seipp, who has made a bid to get a used infield tarp from SIU and place it at the O'Fallon Park diamond.

•Roth

and Roth is part of a solid group of sophomores which has contributed all season. Add in a huge freshman class that can return, and the Lady Warriors have the makings for a return trip to state next year.

"I think we'll definitely make it back," said Roth, who made her first appearance at state a memorable one. "If not, we'd be disappointed, but we're hoping that we can."

"I think (the state tournament) has been a good learning experience for her," Granite City coach Gene Baker said of his keeper last weekend. "I know it has been for me. The girls have really learned a lot from this weekend, and with our youth, that's the most important thing."

Like so many girls — and boys — in Granite City, Roth has played soccer almost as long as she can remember. Roth began in kindergarten, and has always played in goal.

"I've always liked it," she said. They just asked if anyone wanted to play goal, and I said I would. That's where I always played.

"I think I played pretty well later in the year, and at state. But I could have played better, and I'll be working to make myself better in the offseason."

Roth, 15, plays soccer year-round. She said she'll be playing for the Granite City Elks 77 team during the summer, and then work on her skills next fall and winter.

"I need to learn to come out more, and cover space better," she added. "And mostly I just need to talk more."

Roth may have found her game at the St. Dominic Tournament, which was held in St. Charles in late April. Roth was named to the all-tournament team, even though she had a tough game against Missouri power Incarnate Word.

"That shows you how well she played in the other two games," Baker said. "I think I did OK late in the year, but I got a lot of help from my teammates," Roth said. "It was definitely a team effort at state. I've got a lot of good players in front of me, and the backs do a great job in front of me."

Roth, the daughter of Ron and Christie Roth of Granite City, has a lot of time to think about it, but said she already knows she wants to play soccer in college. She said her experience playing for several excellent coaches over the years, including Baker, will prepare her for the next level.

"He's a little more serious than some of the coaches I've played for," Roth said of Baker. "But he shows his sense of humor now and then. But he teaches us a lot, and he's so experienced. He's a great coach."

couldn't be happier right now."

Joe Kosiski, winner of the event last year, finished second, and Gary Webb was third.

Neither Schrader nor Wallace were ever in the running. Schrader blew a motor in the qualifying race, and did not compete in the feature event.

"I've had better days here," said Schrader, who had won the event twice before. "I'm still not sure what happened, but I heard the rod got, and I knew I was history after that."

And Wallace knocked himself out of the qualifier by hitting the wall in turn two twice in his 15-lap heat.

Even though he didn't qualify, Wallace was given a spot in the feature race, but he finished a distant 25th.

"It was a little muddy in that corner tonight, but I still didn't handle it well," Wallace said after the race. "Then I just couldn't get anything going in the main race. There's a lot of good drivers out there."

Boley said the track and the event presents one of the top races of the year.

"It's a tough race, and you can't come in here and just blow somebody away like you can on a lot of area tracks," he said. "This is a big win, and an important win, and I feel fortunate to be standing here (in the winner's circle)."

Boley smiled by taking lead in lap seven when he got around Webb coming out of the first turn.

"That's as well as I've ever run the turns here," said Boley, from Oxford, Iowa.
